Guest Artist

JARED OAKS conductor

Jared Oaks, one of the leading young ballet conductors in the United States, is Music Director of Ballet West. Since joining the company in 2008, Jared has maintained a rigorous conducting schedule, in addition to playing for piano rehearsals and classes. He is a regular guest conductor for The Sarasota Ballet, and has conducted performances for Houston Ballet, Ballet Des Moines, and Louisville Ballet. He has worked with the Anchorage Symphony Orchestra, the Chicago Sinfonietta, and the Kennedy Center Opera House Orchestra, among others.

He recently conducted the premiere of Steve Roens' chamber opera Look Both Ways, as well as the premiere recording of a new oratorio by Deon Nielsen Price, which is available through Naxos.

Jared's numerous compositions include an oratorio about Joan of Arc, with poems by Suzanne Lundquist, and chamber ballets for Ballet West, Charlotte Ballet, Mid-Columbia Ballet, and Victoria Ballet Theatre. Jared is a fellow of the American-Scandinavian Foundation and co-founder of the Composer Discovery Initiative.
